THE MISTLETOE BOUGH.

The mistletoe hung in the castle hall,
The holly branch shone on the old oak wall;
And the baron's retainers were blithe and gay;
And keeping their Christmas holiday;
The baron beheld, with a father's pride,
His beautiful child, young Lovell's bride;
While she with her bright eyes seemed to be
The star of the goodly company.
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

"I'm weary of dancing now," she cried;
"Here tarry a moment—I'll hide—I'll hide;
And Lovell, be sure thou'rt the first to trace
The clue to my secret hiding place."
Away she ran, and her friends began
Each tower to search and each nook to scan;
And young Lovell cried, "Oh! where dost thou hide?
I'm lonesome without thee, my own dear bride."
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

They sought her that night, and they sought her next day,
And they sought her in vain when a week passed away;
In the highest, the lowest, the loneliest spot
Young Lovell sought wildly, but found her not.
And years flew by, and their grief at last
Was told as a sorrowful tale long past;
And when Lovell appeared, the children cried,
"See! the old man weeps for his fairy bride."
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

At length an old oak chest that had long lain hid
Was found in the castle. They raised the lid,
And a skeleton form lay mouldering there
In the burial wreath of the lady fair.
Oh! sad was her fate. In sportive jest
She hid from her lord in the old oak chest.
It closed with a spring; and her bridal bloom
Lay withering there in a living tomb.
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

second articles is so far as the same are responsive to the allegation contained in the said third article, and further denies that his empowering Lorenzo Thomas to act as Secretary of War ad interim amounts to an appointment as Secretary of War; but whether the authority so given amounts to an appointment of a mere temporary designation the respondent denies that in any sense he did thereby intend to violate the Constitution of the United States, or that he thereby intended to give the said order the character or effect of an appointment in the constitutional or legal sense of that term. He further denies that there was no vacancy in said office of Secretary for the Department of War existing at the date of the said written authority.

Answer to Article 4:

For answer to the fourth article the respondent denies that on the 21st day of February, 1868, at Washington aforesaid, or any other time or place, he did unlawfully conspire with the said Lorenzo Thomas, or with the said Thomas, or any other person or persons with intent by intimidations and threats unlawfully to hinder or prevent the said Stanton from holding said office of Secretary of the Department of War, in violation of the Constitution of the United States or of the said act of Congress in said article mentioned, or that he did then and there commit, or was guilty of a high crime in office; on the contrary thereof, protesting that the said Stanton was not then and there lawfully the Secretary for the Department of War, respondent gave Thomas no authority to use force or intimidation to obtain possession of the office.

Answer to Article 5:

For answer to this article, the respondent denies having conspired to hinder the execution of the tenure of office act, and refers to his answers to the first and fourth articles.

Answer to Article 6

tend to offer any inducement to the said Emory to violate any law. What this respondent then said to Gen. Emory was simply the expression of an opinion which he then fully believed to be found, and which he yet believes to be so—that it is by the express provisions of the Constitution this respondent as President is made the Commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States, and as such he is to be respected; and that his orders, whether issued through the General-in-Chief or by any other channel of communication, are entitled to respect and obedience: and that such constitutional power cannot be taken from him by virtue of any act of Congress.

In reference to General Emory's statement that respondent had approved of said act of Congress containing the section referred to, the respondent admits that his formal approval was given to said act, but it was accompanied by a protest against the provision depriving the President of his Constitutional powers as Commander in Chief.

Answer to Article 10:

Denies that the passages set forth as extracts from the respondent's speeches in Washington, Cleveland and St. Louis are correct, and demands, that if the Court shall receive such as containing matter constituting a high misdemeanor, that proof shall be required to be made of the actual speech and address of respondent on said occasions, which respondent denies that said article and specification contains, or correctly or justly respond.

Respondent denies that he has ever intended to set aside or bring into disgrace the rightful authority of Congress. Respondent further says that at all times he has, in his official acts as President, recognized the authority of the several Congresses of the United States as constituted and organized during his administration of the office of President of the United States

Miscellaneous.

AN EXTRAORDINARY RACE.

The Worcester Spy furnishes particulars of the extraordinary and cruel race between the horses "Empire State" and "Ivanhoe," from Brighton to that city, on Saturday. The terms of the match were to trot from the Mill Dam, Boston, to Worcester, for $500 a side, each horse to carry 400 pounds, sleighs or wheels, rain or shine, play or pay. Owing to the bad condition of the road at Mill Dam, the start was effected from the Charles River Hotel in Brighton. Both horses were attached to sleighs. They started at fourteen minutes before eleven o'clock. From Brighton to Watertown the sleighing was bad, but at the latter place it became good. "Empire State" took the lead from the start, and after leaving Watertown drew his heavy load with apparent ease, and trotted so well within himself that he was allowed to go as he pleased until Northboro' was reached. A rest of seven minutes was here taken, and gruel, wine, water and hay offered the horse, but he refused, and was with difficulty kept from running away. Once more given his head, he seemed to be possessed, and trotted mile after mile at a three minute gait, and all the time within himself and under a steady pull. This he kept up until he reached Long Pond, when he stopped trotting and walked into the city, arriving at Washington Square at 19 minutes past 1 o'clock, having gone the whole distance, thirty-eight miles, in two hours and thirty three minutes. Soon after his arrival the horse became sick, and although every effort was made to save him, his over driving had killed him, and he died at midnight of spasmodic colic. The driver of "Ivanhoe," finding it of no use to follow [illegible]

INFLUENCE OF PAPERS ON CHILDREN.

A school teacher who had enjoyed the benefit of a long practice of his profession, and watched closely the influence of newspapers upon the minds of a family of children, states as the result of his observation that, without exception, those scholars of both sexes and all ages who have access to newspapers at home, when compared with those who have not, are:

1. Better readers, excellent in pronunciation, and consequently read more understandingly.

2. They are better spellers and define words with ease and accuracy.

3. They obtain a partial knowledge of geography in almost half the time it requires others, as the newspaper has made them familiar with the location of important places and nations, their governments and doings.

4. They are better grammarians, for having become so familiar with every variety of style in the newspaper, from commonplace advertisement to the finish of and classical oration of the statesman, they more readily comprehend the text, and consequently analyze its construction with alacrity.

5. They write better composition, using better language, containing more thoughts still more clearly expressed.

From these simple facts three important things can be deduced:

1. The responsibility of the press in supplying literature which is both healthful in tone and likewise understandingly expressed.

2. The absolute necessity of [illegible] supervision of a child's reading by his parents.

3. Having [illegible] a good newspaper, no matter what the price, don't be [illegible] a healthy one;

Dentistry.—I. N. Shatto, Dentist, will be at Ritter's Hotel in Loysville, on Monday, April 13, 1868, where he can be professionally consulted by all who may wish to see him. Prices moderate and work guaranteed.

The Court.—The attendance at Court this week is unusually small, there not being a large amount of business to transact and not very important causes to try. We will give the proceedings next week.

Fire in the Woods.—On last Tuesday a fire broke out in the woodland of Messrs Donaghy and Clouser, in Miller and Centre townships, and burnt over between 300 and 400 acres. The fire originated through the operations of some hunters in smoking a fox out of Haggerty's rocks. The rain of Wednesday stopped the further progress of the fire.

Serious Accident.—We regret to learn that Mr. Henry Moreland, Chief Engineer at the Duncannon Iron Works, was badly scalded on Monday of last week. He was in the act of turning a cock in the boiler when the cock blew out and the boiling water and steam struck him about the abdomen, running down his legs, scalding him dreadfully. His recovery is said to be doubtful.

"Oh! that will be joyful!" When men and women throw "Physic to the dogs," and when a trifle out of order, or to prevent getting it of order, take Plantation Bitters. Are you Dyspeptic, Nervous, Jaundiced, Hy'pped, Low Spirited, Weak, or are you sick and don't know what ails you? We have been, and was recommended to try the Plantation Bitters, which we did with great satisfaction and entire success. Delicate Females Clergymen, Merchants Lawyers, and persons of Sedentary Habits, are particularly benefited by these Bitters. The sale is perfectly enormous.

Infanticide.—A colored girl named Kate Carson, who came to this place about five months ago to do housework in the family of Mrs. Dickey, was found to be sick on last Friday evening. Dr Brickler was sent for and soon ascertained that she had been delivered of a child. She denied the charge, but upon turning aside the bed clothes he found a male child lying under her, dead, with a piece of muslin tied around its neck. Coroner Clemson was notified, who summoned a jury; a post mortem examination was had on Saturday and a verdict rendered in accordance with the above facts. The girl

Letter from the Far South.

Thomasville, Ga.,
March 24, 1868.

Editor Perry County Democrat:

"Gentle spring," with an unusual share of "ethereal mildness," is on us, and a glorious season it is If anything could make one forget he lived in a "Military District" and "had no rights a Freedmen's Bureau was bound to respect," this fine, bracing, life-giving weather would go far towards it.—What a beautiful "fitness of things" in all the arrangements of Providence! While our fellow man oppresses and tramples on us, Nature smiles, the sun sheds its genial rays around us, and every thing not human calls on us to look up! Let us look and be thankful. Perhaps the "promised land" may be in sight, and our deliverance at hand!

The farming interest, (what little there is done in this country,) goes on encouragingly. The stands of Corn are pretty good and the first ploughing about through with. Cotton land is generally ready; but planters are holding back a few days, lest the weather may take a snap judgment on them. The oat crop is magnificent, at least that part of it which was seeded before Christmas. The sugar cane is now coming up beautifully and we are all expecting an ample supply of "sweetning" if coffee does not steal all the cane before it is manufactured into sugar and syrup.

On the whole, we are content with the situation as it now is. What may be in the early future God (and the 'moralityites,') only knows!

Politically, we are quiet—that is, the white men of this section. The prismatic party are in a ferment. The "assorted color" have been placed in the Radical kaleidoscope, and the Bureau man is turning it round for a suitable blending. The nomination of Bullock, a Connecticut Yankee of recent importation, was a happy thing for the "super kil." The "words of the nation" take it literally and swear it means beef; some say "steers" and mules to plow with, but the prevailing opinion is beef. Johnny Hook never was more clamorous for his rights than coffee will be on election day for his stock of mules and steers. "Vote early and often"—beef to eat and steers ready broke to plow and harness, "C. O. D," will poll a heavy vote down here. If the Rads will only manipulate Grant's name a little, and let it be Grunt, and put a Mr. Hogg on the ticket with him, they will sweep these provinces as clean as Butler did the New Orleans' pantrys. Yours Truly,

P. S. B.

Poor House Account.—No. 2.

Mr. Editor:—The Hon. Board of Directors of the Poor of Perry county, in your issue of April 1st, invite me to attend the next meeting of said Board to discuss the $1500 loan inquired about in my first communication, and they would "explain more fully" in regard to this and other matters. I purpose going on a visit shortly and can't possibly meet you at that time. For fear, however, of being accused for lack of interest in the matter, you shall have the benefit of my views in this article.

There are numerous other "Taxpayers" in the county who wish and ought to know how their money is being spent. This these "Solons" of the Board want to evade by asking a private consultation in regard to the matter in dispute. I would not accept your offer if I remained at home till your next meeting; because the "Tax-"Rearback." Mr. B. consumed 50 bushels per month of wheat. His predecessor 55, difference of 16 bushel more by former Steward, who had 31 paupers more than Mr. B, consequently no difference at all in the amount of consumption. Figures won't lie. Credits that belong to Mr. B's. predecessor, for the year 1866: 2 horses bought for $480; Reaper $255; wagon shed built $300; 55 stock hogs, weighing from 125 to 175 pounds each; 3 beef cattle; 1 large bull. The last two items furnished the meat for last fall's killing. No wonder they have 127 pie-meat on hand. They won't have that amount next April, from the appearance of the stock seen rooting in the meadow daily, in front of the house. "Taxpayer."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Where this article is known it is a work of supererogation to say one word in its favor, so well is it established as an unfailing remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, as well as that most dreaded of all diseases, Consumption, which high medical authority has pronounced to be an incurable disease. Those who have used this remedy know its value; those who have not, have but to make a single trial to be satisfied that of all others it is the remedy.

Dear Sirs:—Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eight years ago, one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline, and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of it there was a great improvement in her health. I have, in my individual case, made frequent use of your valuable medicine; and have always been benefited by it. I would, however, caution the public against imposition because there is a good deal of spurious Wistar's Balsam and declarations of General Thomas?

Mr. Manager Butler at first hesitated to answer, but afterwards replied in the affirmative, whereupon Mr. Stanbery, of counsel for the President, proceeded to argue against the admissability of the proposed testimony, He was listened to with marked attention.

Mr. Stanbery concluded his argument at one o'clock and five minutes.

Mr. Manager Butler then proceeded to reply thereto. His argument, judging from the restlessness of Senators was rather tedious.

Thad. Stevens who began to nod in his chair during the latter portion of Mr. Stanberry's remarks, kept it up while Butler was speaking much to the amusement of the spectators in the gallery. The "Great Commoner" is evidently suffering from extreme debility, and looks as though he will not be able to stand the excitement of the pending trial much longer.

Mr Butler concluded his remarks about one o'clock and forty minutes.

Mr. Curtis counsel for the President, then proceeded to argue against the admissibility of the proposed testimony.

He was followed by Mr. Bingham, of the House managers, who argued in favor of the admission of the testimony. In the course of Mr. Bingham's remarks he said that in the event of the conviction of the President by the "High Court," he may be indicted and tried hereafter, in connection with General Thomas, for a conspiracy to violate the provisions of the tenure-of-office act."

Upon the conclusion of Mr. Butler's argument, Mr. Senator Johnson asked in writing whether the managers propose to prove that the authority given General Thomas empowered him to use force to obtain possession of the War Office, etc.

Mr. Bingham said that he was instructed by the managers to decline to make answer to so general a question.

Mr. Evarts rose to speak, but Mr. Bingham raised a question of order upon further discussion.

After the reading of the rules applicable to the limitation of argument on interlocutory questions, it was finally decided that the counsel of the President had exhausted the time allowed under the rules.

The question was then taken on the admission of the proposed testimony. The yeas and nays being ordered thereon, resulted—yeas 39, nays 12—on strict party vote. So the Senate resolved to admit the testimony.

Mr. Burleigh was then recalled to the stand and examined by Mr. Butler.

Mr. Burleigh testified to the conversation which took place between himself and General Thomas, wherein the latter said he intended to take possession of the War Office by force.

Mr. Butler asked the witness whether he was present at any time in the Adjutant General's Office before General Thomas was appointed Secretary of War ad interim. The witness replied in the affirmative. Mr. Butler then asked if he heard any conversation between Gen Thomas and his subordinate officers on the occasion referred to.

Mr. Curtis asked at what date the managers fixed this alleged conversation?

Mr. Butler said it was about the time General Thomas was restored to the office of Adjutant General, and he proposed to show that he then told the clerks and others in his room what he intended to do for them when he became head of the Department.

Mr Evarts said the managers proposed to give evidence concerning matters antecedent to the

THE MISTLETOE BOUGH.

The mistletoe hung in the castle hall,
The holly branch shone on the old oak wall;
And the baron's retainers were blithe and gay;
And keeping their Christmas holiday;
The baron beheld, with a father's pride,
His beautiful child, young Lovell's bride;
While she with her bright eyes seemed to be
The star of the goodly company.
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

"I'm weary of dancing now," she cried;
"Here tarry a moment—I'll hide—I'll hide;
And Lovell, be sure thou'rt the first to trace
The clue to my secret hiding place."
Away she ran, and her friends began
Each tower to search and each nook to scan;
And young Lovell cried, "Oh! where dost thou hide?
I'm lonesome without thee, my own dear bride."
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

They sought her that night, and they sought her next day,
And they sought her in vain when a week passed away;
In the highest, the lowest, the loneliest spot
Young Lovell sought wildly, but found her not.
And years flew by, and their grief at last
Was told as a sorrowful tale long past;
And when Lovell appeared, the children cried,
"See! the old man weeps for his fairy bride."
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

At length an old oak chest that had long lain hid
Was found in the castle. They raised the lid,
And a skeleton form lay mouldering there
In the burial wreath of the lady fair.
Oh! sad was her fate. In sportive jest
She hid from her lord in the old oak chest.
It closed with a spring; and her bridal bloom
Lay withering there in a living tomb.
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

second articles is so far as the same are responsive to the allegation contained in the said third article, and further denies that his empowering Lorenzo Thomas to act as Secretary of War ad interim amounts to an appointment as Secretary of War; but whether the authority so given amounts to an appointment of a mere temporary designation the respondent denies that in any sense he did thereby intend to violate the Constitution of the United States, or that he thereby intended to give the said order the character or effect of an appointment in the constitutional or legal sense of that term. He further denies that there was no vacancy in said office of Secretary for the Department of War existing at the date of the said written authority.

Answer to Article 4:

For answer to the fourth article the respondent denies that on the 21st day of February, 1868, at Washington aforesaid, or any other time or place, he did unlawfully conspire with the said Lorenzo Thomas, or with the said Thomas, or any other person or persons with intent by intimidations and threats unlawfully to hinder or prevent the said Stanton from holding said office of Secretary of the Department of War, in violation of the Constitution of the United States or of the said act of Congress in said article mentioned, or that he did then and there commit, or was guilty of a high crime in office; on the contrary thereof, protesting that the said Stanton was not then and there lawfully the Secretary for the Department of War, respondent gave Thomas no authority to use force or intimidation to obtain possession of the office.

Answer to Article 5:

For answer to this article, the respondent denies having conspired to hinder the execution of the tenure of office act, and refers to his answers to the first and fourth articles.

Answer to Article 6:

tend to offer any inducement to the said Emory to violate any law. What this respondent then said to Gen. Emory was simply the expression of an opinion which he then fully believed to be found, and which he yet believes to be so—that it is by the express provisions of the Constitution this respondent as President is made the Commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States, and as such he is to be respected; and that his orders, whether issued through the General-in-Chief or by any other channel of communication, are entitled to respect and obedience: and that such constitutional power cannot be taken from him by virtue of any act of Congress.

In reference to General Emory's statement that respondent had approved of said act of Congress containing the section referred to, the respondent admits that his formal approval was given to said act, but it was accompanied by a protest against the provision depriving the President of his Constitutional powers as Commander in Chief.

Answer to Article 10:

Denies that the passages set forth as extracts from the respondent's speeches in Washington, Cleveland and St. Louis are correct, and demands, that if the Court shall receive such as containing matter constituting a high misdemeanor, that proof shall be required to be made of the actual speech and address of respondent on said occasions, which respondent denies that said article and specification contains, or correctly or justly respond.

Respondent denies that he has ever intended to set aside or bring into disgrace the rightful authority of Congress. Respondent further says that at all times he has, in his official acts as President, recognized the authority of the several Congresses of the United States as constituted and organized during his administration of the office of President of the United States

Miscellaneous.

AN EXTRAORDINARY RACE.

The Worcester Spy furnishes particulars of the extraordinary and cruel race between the horses "Empire State" and "Ivanhoe," from Brighton to that city, on Saturday. The terms of the match were to trot from the Mill Dam, Boston, to Worcester, for $500 a side, each horse to carry 400 pounds, sleighs or wheels, rain or shine, play or pay. Owing to the bad condition of the road at Mill Dam, the start was effected from the Charles River Hotel in Brighton. Both horses were attached to sleighs. They started at fourteen minutes before eleven o'clock. From Brighton to Watertown the sleighing was bad, but at the latter place it became good. "Empire State" took the lead from the start, and after leaving Watertown drew his heavy load with apparent ease, and trotted so well within himself that he was allowed to go as he pleased until Northboro' was reached. A rest of seven minutes was here taken, and gruel, wine, water and hay offered the horse, but he refused, and was with difficulty kept from running away. Once more given his head, he seemed to be possessed, and trotted mile after mile at a three minute gait, and all the time within himself and under a steady pull. This he kept up until he reached Long Pond, when he stopped trotting and walked into the city, arriving at Washington Square at 19 minutes past 1 o'clock, having done the whole distance, thirty-eight miles, in two hours and thirty three minutes. Soon after his arrival the horse became sick, and although every effort was made to save him, his over driving had killed him, and he died at midnight of spasm of the colic. The driver of "Ivanhoe," finding it of no use to [illegible]

INFLUENCE OF PAPERS ON CHILDREN.

A school teacher who had enjoyed the benefit of a long practice of his profession, and watched closely the influence of newspapers upon the minds of a family of children, states as the result of his observation that, without exception, those scholars of both sexes and all ages who have access to newspapers at home, when compared with those who have not, are

1. Better readers, excellent in pronunciation, and consequently read more understandingly.

2. They are better spellers, and define words with ease and accuracy.

3. They obtain a partial knowledge of geography in almost half the time it requires others, as the newspaper has made them familiar with the location of important places and nations, their governments and doings.

4. They are better grammarians, for having become so familiar with every variety of style in the newspaper, from commonplace advertisement to the finished and classical oration of the statesman, they more readily comprehend the text, and consequently analyze its construction with alacrity.

5. They write better composition, using better language, and using more [illegible] still more clearly expressed.

THANKS.—Mr. Samuel Hassinger, of Jackson township, has our thanks for a list of new subscribers.

DENTISTRY.—I. N. Shatto, Dentist, will be at Ritter's Hotel in Loysville, on Monday, April 13, 1868, where he can be professionally consulted by all who may wish to see him. Prices moderate and work guaranteed.

THE COURT.—The attendance at Court this week is unusually small, there not being a large amount of business to transact and not very important cases to try. We will give the proceedings next week.

FIRE IN THE WOODS.—On last Tuesday a fire broke out in the woodland of Messrs Donaghy and Closser, in Miller and Centre townships, and burnt over between 300 and 400 acres. The fire originated through the operations of some hunters in smoking a fox out of Haggerty's rocks. The rain of Wednesday stopped the further progress of the fire.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that Mr. Henry Moreland, Chief Engineer at the Duncannon Iron Works, was badly scalded on Monday of last week. He was in the act of turning a cock in the boiler when the cock blew out and the boiling water and steam struck him about the abdomen, running down his legs, scalding him dreadfully. His recovery is said to be doubtful.

Delicate Females Clergymen, Merchants Lawyers, and persons of Sedentary Habits, are particularly benefited by these Bitters. The sale is perfectly enormous.

INFANTICIDE.—A colored girl named Kate Carson, who came to this place about five months ago to do housework in the family of Mrs. Dickey, was found to be sick on last Friday evening. Dr Strickler was sent for and soon ascertained that she had been delivered of a child. She denied the charge, but upon turning aside the bed clothes he found a male child lying under her, dead, with a piece of muslin tied around its neck. Coroner Clemson was notified, who summoned a jury; a post mortem examination was had on Saturday and a verdict rendered in accordance with the above facts. The girl

THOMASVILLE, GA., March 24, 1868.

EDITOR PERRY COUNTY DEMOCRAT:

"Gentle spring," with an unusual share of "ethereal mildness," is on us, and a glorious season it is. If anything could make one forget he lived in a "Military District" and "had no rights a Freedmen's Bureau was bound to respect," this fine, bracing, life-giving weather would go far towards it.—What a beautiful "fitness of things" in all the arrangements of Providence! While our fellow man oppresses and tramples on us, Nature smiles, the sun sheds its genial rays around us, and every thing not human calls on us to look up! Let us look and be thankful. Perhaps the "promised land" may be in sight, and our deliverance at hand!

The farming interest, (what little there is done in this country,) goes on encouragingly. The stands of Corn are pretty good and the first ploughing about through with. Cotton land is generally ready; but planters are holding back a few days, lest the weather may take a snap judgment on them. The oat crop is magnificent, at least that part of it which was seeded before Christmas. The sugar cane is now coming up beautifully and we are all expecting an ample supply of "sweetning" if coffee does not steal all the cane before it is manufactured into sugar and syrup.

On the whole, we are content with the situation as it now is. What may be in the early future God (and the 'moralityites,') only knows!

Politically, we are quiet—that is, the white men of this section. The prismatic party are in a ferment. The "assorted color" have been placed in the Radical kaleidoscope, and the Bureau man is turning it round for a suitable blending. The nomination of Bullock, a Connecticut Yankee of recent importation, was a happy thing for the "super kil." The "words of the nation" take it literally and swear it means beef; some say "steers" and mules to plow with, but the prevailing opinion is beef. Johnny Hook never was more clamorous for his rights than coffee will be on election day for his stock of mules and steers. "Vote early and often"—beef to eat and steers ready broke to plow and harness, "C. O. D," will poll a heavy vote down here. If the Rads will only manipulate Grant's name a little, and let it be Grunt, and put a Mr. Hogg on the ticket with him, they will sweep these provinces as clean as Butler did the New Orleans' pantrys. Yours Truly,

P. S. B.

Poor House Account.—No. 2.

MR. EDITOR:—The Hon. Board of Directors of the Poor of Perry county, in your issue of April 1st, invite me to attend the next meeting of said Board to discuss the $1500 loan inquired about in my first communication, and they would "explain more fully" in regard to this and other matters. I purpose going on a visit shortly and can't possibly meet you at that time. For fear, however, of being accused for lack of interest in the matter, you shall have the benefit of my views in this article.

There are numerous other "Taxpayers" in the county who wish and ought to know how their money is being spent. This these "Solons" of the Board want to evade by asking a private consultation in regard to the matter in dispute. I would not accept your offer if I remained at home till your next meeting; because the "Tax-"Roorback." Mr. B. consumed 39 bushels per month of wheat. His predecessor 55, difference of 16 bushel more by former Steward, who had 31 paupers more than Mr. B., consequently no difference at all in the amount of consumption. Figures won't lie. Credits that belong to Mr. B's. predecessor, for the year 1868: 2 horses bought for $480; Reaper $255; wagon shed built $300; 55 stock hogs, weighing from 125 to 175 pounds each; 3 beef cattle; 1 large bull. The last two items furnished the meat for last fall's killing. No wonder they have 127 pie-meat on hand. They won't have that amount next April, from the appearance of the stock seen rooting in the meadow daily, in front of the house. "TAXPAYER."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Where this article is known it is a work of supererogation to say one word in its favor, so well is it established as an unfailing remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, as well as that most dreaded of all diseases, Consumption, which high medical authority has pronounced to be an incurable disease. Those who have used this remedy know its value; those who have not, have but to make a single trial to be satisfied that of all others it is the remedy.

The Rev JACOB SECHLER,

well known and much respected among the German population of this country, writes as follows:

HANOVER, Pa., Feb. 16, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. EOWLE & SON, BOSTON.

DEAR SIRS:—Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eight years ago, one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline, and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of it there was a great improvement in her health. I have, in my individual case, made frequent use of your valuable medicine; and have always been benented by it. I would, however, caution the public against imposition because there is a good deal of spurious Wistar's Balsam

Although the posting and folding for e Legislature, which costs from $15,- 0 to $20,000, can be done for from $8,- 0 to $5,000, the "Retrenchment and form Committee," (so called, but we n't know why,) has refused to let the ntract out to the lowest bidder.

According to Radical papers, Senators n Wade, Zach Chandler and Sprague, ated a sensation in Washington last week refusing to get drunk when invited. It s so unusual, you know.

On his left sat General Schenck, who, always fond of looking and resolute, seemed to pay more attention to Mr. Butler's speech than any other member of the House. To the left of General Schenck sat Speaker Colfax, who amused himself by folding a piece of paper into all sorts of shapes. The Senators paid strict attention, but after Mr. Butler had spoken something more than an hour the members of the House seemed to get considerably bored, and one by one left the hall, until, at half past two o'clock, but few remained. The galleries, too, seemed to become very uneasy, especially those upon the back seats, where they could neither hear nor see very well. There was considerable backward movement here also, and seats that were crowded early in the day were speedily vacated. The President's counsel occupied their accustomed seats at the table to the right of the Chief Justice, and the managers of the House at the table on the left. Of the latter, all were present except Mr. Stevens. After awhile Mr. Butler's long argument became somewhat tedious to Senators and to the managers. Some engaged in conversation with their neighbors, some yawned, some read newspapers and letters, and some others stretched their limbs by movements toward the court-rooms.

At the conclusion of his speech, which lasted three hours, Mr. Wilson presented in evidence the oath of office taken by the President, the nomination of Mr. Stanton by President Lincoln, and the President's message of December last, announcing Stanton's suspension. During the reading, a motion to adjourn the Court prevailed, and the Senate took up the conference report on the Tax Repeal bill. The report, which abates the stringency of the provisions regarding whiskey, and includes manufactured lumber and door among the articles exempted from the tax, was agreed to, and the Senate adjourned.

In the House, Mr. Churchill, of N. Y., introduced a bill, which was referred, requiring a new election in case of an eighteen months' interval between a double vacancy in the Presidential office and the end of the term. After a recess to attend the Impeachment trial, the rules were suspended, and the session ordered to begin at 10 o'clock to consider the Tax Repeal bill. The resolution from New Jersey, withdrawing the ratification by that State of the 14th amendment, was presented by Mr. Haight, and on motion of Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, was returned to that gentleman, on the ground that it was "disrespectful and scandalous."

At noon on Tuesday the Senate, as a "High Court of Impeachment," resumed the trial of the President of the United States under the articles of impeachment preferred against him. The galleries were not near so well filled as on former occasions, and an apparent want of interest seemed to pervade the whole scene. The proceedings were opened by the Chief Justice of the United States calling "the court" to order, and the usual proclamation was made by the Sergeant-at-Arms. The Managers on the part of the House and the counsel of the President were present. The attendance of members of the House was much smaller than on the previous day. Very few Democratic Representatives were present. The reading of the Journal was dispensed with, and Mr. Wilson, on the part of the managers, offered in evidence the resolution of the Senate passed last week, non-concurring in the suspension of Mr. Stanton. He then offered the message of the President of the 21st of February, announcing the removal of Mr. Stanton, and also the resolution of the Senate of the same date declaring that Lorenzo Thomas had not been authorized to act as Secretary of War ad interim.

Mr. Manager Butler then proceeded to address the Senate in support of the articles of impeachment. He said that the question was whether the President had violated the law in the premises, and whether the Senate would convict him of a high crime or misdemeanor. He would not argue the question whether the President had the power to remove Mr. Stanton, but whether he had violated the law in the manner of his attempted removal. He would not argue the question whether the Tenure-of-Office act was constitutional or unconstitutional, but would assume that it was constitutional. He would not argue the question whether Mr. Stanton was a member of the Cabinet within the meaning of the act, but would assume that he was. He would not argue the question whether the President had the power to issue the order to Thomas, but would assume that he had. He would not argue the question whether Thomas was authorized to act as Secretary of War ad interim, but would assume that he was. He would not argue the question whether the President had the power to remove Secretary Stanton, but would assume that he had

THE MISTLETOE BOUGH.

The mistletoe hung in the castle hall,
The holly branch shone on the old oak wall;
And the baron's retainers were blithe and gay;
And keeping their Christmas holiday;
The baron beheld, with a father's pride,
His beautiful child, young Lovell's bride;
While she with her bright eyes seemed to be
The star of the goodly company.
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

"I'm weary of dancing now," she cried;
"Here tarry a moment—I'll hide—I'll hide;
And Lovell, be sure thou'rt the first to trace
The clue to my secret hiding place."
Away she ran, and her friends began
Each tower to search and each nook to scan;
And young Lovell cried, "Oh! where dost thou hide?
I'm lonesome without thee, my own dear bride."
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

They sought her that night, and they sought her next day,
And they sought her in vain when a week passed away;
In the highest, the lowest, the loneliest spot
Young Lovell sought wildly, but found her not.
And years flew by, and their grief at last
Was told as a sorrowful tale long past;
And when Lovell appeared, the children cried,
"See! the old man weeps for his fairy bride."
Oh! the mistletoe bough! Oh! the mistletoe bough!

At length an old oak chest that had long lain hid
Was found in the castle. They raised the lid,
And a skeleton form lay mouldering there
In the bridal wreath of the lady fair.
Oh! sad was her fate. In sportive jest
She had from her lord in the old oak chest.
It closed with a spring; and her bridal bloom
Lay withering there in a living tomb.

second articles in so far as the same are responsive to the allegation contained in the said third article, and further denies that his empowering Lorenzo Thomas to act as Secretary of War ad interim amounts to an appointment as Secretary of War; but whether the authority so given amounts to an appointment of a mere temporary designation the respondent denies that in any sense he did thereby intend to violate the Constitution of the United States, or that he thereby intended to give the said order the character or effect of an appointment in the constitutional or legal sense of that term. He further denies that there was no vacancy in said office of Secretary for the Department of War existing at the date of the said written authority.

Answer to Article 4:

For answer to the fourth article the respondent denies that on the 21st day of February, 1868, at Washington aforesaid, or any other time or place, he did unlawfully conspire with the said Lorenzo Thomas, or with the said Thomas, or any other person or persons with intent by intimidations and threats unlawfully to hinder or prevent the said Stanton from holding said office of Secretary of the Department of War, in violation of the Constitution of the United States or of the said act of Congress in said article mentioned, or that he did then and there commit, or was guilty of, a high crime in office; on the contrary thereof, protesting that the said Stanton was not then and there lawfully the Secretary for the Department of War, respondent gave Thomas no authority to use force or intimidation to obtain possession of the office.

tend to offer any inducement to the said Emory to violate any law. What this respondent then said to Gen. Emory was simply the expression of an opinion which he then fully believed to be found, and which he yet believes to be so—that it is by the express provisions of the Constitution this respondent as President is made the Commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States, and as such he is to be respected; and that his order, whether issued through the General-in-Chief or by any other channel of communication, are entitled to respect and obedience: and that such constitutional power cannot be taken from him by virtue of any act of Congress.

In reference to General Emory's statement that respondent had approved of said act of Congress containing the section referred to, the respondent admits that his formal approval was given to said act, but it was accompanied by a protest against the provision depriving the President of his Constitutional powers as Commander in Chief.

Answer to Article 10:

Denies that the passages set forth as extracts from the respondent's speeches in Washington, Cleveland and St. Louis are correct, and demands, that if the Court shall receive such as containing matter constituting a high misdemeanor, that proof shall be required to be made of the actual speech and address of respondent on said occasions, which respondent denies that said article and specification contains, or correctly or justly respond.

Respondent denies that he has ever intended to set aside or bring into disgrace the rightful authority of [illegible]

Miscellaneous.

AN EXTRAORDINARY RACE.

The Worcester Spy furnishes particulars of the extraordinary and cruel race between the horses, "Empire State" and "Ivanhoe," from Brighton to that city, on Saturday. The terms of the match were to trot from the Mill Dam, Boston, to Worcester, for $500 a side, each horse to carry 400 pounds, sleighs or wheels, rain or shine, play or pay. Owing to the bad condition of the road at Mill Dam, the start was effected from the Charles River Hotel in Brighton. Both horses were attached to sleighs. They started at fourteen minutes before eleven o'clock. From Brighton to Watertown the sleighing was bad, but at the latter place it became good. "Empire State" took the lead from the start, and after leaving Watertown drew his heavy load with apparent ease, and trotted so well within himself that he was allowed to go as he pleased until Northboro' was reached. A rest of seven minutes was here taken, and gruel, wine, water and hay offered the horse, but he refused, and was with difficulty kept from running away. Once more given his head, he seemed to be possessed, and trotted mile after mile at a three minute gait, and all the time within himself and under a steady pull. This he kept up until he reached Long Pond, when he stopped trotting and walked into the city, arriving at Washington Square at 20 minutes past 1 o'clock, having come the whole distance, thirty-eight miles, [illegible]

INFLUENCE OF PAPERS ON CHILDREN.

A school teacher who had enjoyed the benefit of a long practice of his profession, and watched closely the influence of newspapers upon the minds of a family of children, states as the result of his observation that, without exception, those scholars of both sexes and all ages who have access to newspapers at home, when compared with those who have not, are

1. Better readers, excellent in pronunciation, and consequently read more understandingly

2. They are better spellers, and define words with ease and accuracy

3. They obtain a partial knowledge of geography in almost half the time it requires others, as the newspaper has made them familiar with the location of important places and nations, their governments and doings.

4. They are better grammarians, for having become so familiar with every variety of style in the newspaper, from common place advertisement to the finish ed and classical oration of the statesman, they more readily comprehend the text, and consequently analyze its construction with alacrity.

5. They write better composition, using better language, containing more thoughts still more clearly expressed

From these simple facts three important things can be deduced:

1. The responsibility of the press supplying literature which is both healthful in tone and [illegible]

2. The [illegible]

8 APRIL 1868 THE PERRY COUNTY DEMOCRAT NEW BLOOMFIELD, PENNSYLVANIA

Letter from the Far South.

THOMASVILLE, GA., March 24, 1868.

EDITOR PERRY COUNTY DEMOCRAT:

"Gentle spring," with an unusual share of "ethereal mildness," is on us, and a glorious season it is. If anything could make one forget he lived in a "Military District" and "had no rights a Freedmen's Bureau was bound to respect," this fine, bracing, life-giving weather would go far towards it—What a beautiful "fitness of things" in all the arrangements of Providence! While our fellow men oppresses and tramples on us, Nature smiles, the sun sheds its genial rays around us, and every thing not human calls on us to look up! Let us look and be thankful. Perhaps the "promised land" may be in sight, and our deliverance at hand!

The farming interest, (what little there is done in this country,) goes on encouragingly. The stands of Corn are pretty good and the first ploughing about through with. Cotton land is generally ready; but planters are holding back a few days, lest the weather may take a snap judgment on them. The oat crop is magnificent, at least that part of it which was seeded before Christmas. The sugar cane is now coming up beautifully and we are all expecting an ample supply of "sweetning" if cuffee does not steal all the cane before it is manufactured into sugar and syrup.

On the whole, we are content with the situation as it now is. What may be in the early future God (and the 'moralityites,') only knows!

Politically, we are quiet—that is, the white men of this section. The prismatic party are in a ferment. The "assorted color" have been placed in the Radical kaleidoscope, and the Bureau man is turning it round for a suitable blending. The nomination of Bullock, a Connecticut Yankee of recent importation, was a happy thing for the "super loil." The "wards of the nation" take it literally and swear it means beef; some say "steers" and make to plow with, but the prevailing opinion is beef. Johnny Hook never was more clamorous for his rights than cuffee will be on election day for his stock of mules and steers. "Vote early and often"—beef to eat and steers ready broke to plow and harness, "C. O. D." will poll a heavy vote down here. If the Rads will only manipulate Grant's name a little, and let it be Grunt, and put a Mr. Hogg on the ticket with him, they will sweep these provinces as clean as Butler did the New Orleans' pantrys. Yours Truly,

P. S. B.

Poor House Account.—No. 2.

MR. EDITOR:—The Hon. Board of Directors of the Poor of Perry county, in your issue of April 1st, invite me to attend the next meeting of said Board to discuss the $1500 loan inquired about in my first communication, and they would "explain more fully" in regard to this and other matters. I purpose going on a visit shortly and can't possibly meet you at that time. For fear, however, of being accused for lack of interest in "Roorback," Mr. B. consumed 30 bushels per month of wheat. His predecessor 55, difference of 16 bushel more by former Steward, who had 31 paupers more than Mr. B., consequently no difference at all in the amount of consumption. Figures won't lie. Credits that belong to Mr. B's. predecessor, for the year 1866: 2 horses bought for $480; Reaper $255; wagon shed built $300; 55 stock hogs, weighing from 125 to 175 pounds each; 3 beef cattle; 1 large bull. The last two items furnished the most for last fall's killing. No wonder they have 127 pie-meat on hand. They won't have that amount next April, from the appearance of the stock seen rooting in the meadow daily, in front of the house.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

Where this article is known it is a work of supererogation to say one word in its favor, so well is it established as an unfailing remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, as well as that most dreaded of all diseases, Consumption, which high medical authority has pronounced to be an incurable disease. and declarations of General Thomas?

Mr. Manager Butler at first hesitated to answer, but afterwards replied in the affirmative, whereupon Mr. Stanbery, of counsel for the President, proceeded to argue against the admissability of the proposed testimony. He was listened to with marked attention.

Mr. Stanbery concluded his argument at one o'clock and five minutes.

Mr. Manager Butler then proceeded to reply thereto. His argument, judging from the restlessness of Senators was rather tedious.

Thad. Stevens who began to nod in his chair during the latter portion of Mr. Stanberry's remarks, kept it up while Butler was speaking much to the amusement of the spectators in the gallery. The "Great Commoner" is evidently suffering from extreme debility, and looks as though he will not be able to stand the excitement of the pending trial much longer.

Mr Butler concluded his remarks about one o'clock and forty minutes.

Mr. Curtis counsel for the President, then proceeded to argue against the admissibility of the proposed testimony.

He was followed by Mr. Bingham, of the House managers, who argued in favor of the admission of the testimony. In the course of Mr. Bingham's remarks he said that in the event of the conviction of the President by the "High Court," he may be indicted and tried hereafter, in connection with General Thomas, for a conspiracy to violate the provisions of the tenure-of-office act."

Upon the conclusion of Mr. Butler's argument, Mr. Senator Johnson asked in writing whether the managers propose to prove that the authority given General Thomas empowered him to use forces to obtain possession of the War Office, etc.

Mr. Bingham said that he was instructed by the managers to decline to make answer to so general a question.

Mr. Evarts rose to speak, but Mr. Bingham raised a question of order upon further discussion.

After the reading of the rules applicable to the limitation of argument on interlocutory questions, it was finally decided that the counsel of the President had exhausted the time allowed under the rules.

The question was then taken on the admission of the proposed testimony. The yeas and nays being ordered thereon, resulted—yeas 39, nays [illegible] party vote. So the Senate resolved to admit the testimony.

Mr. Burleigh was then recalled to the stand and examined by Mr. Butler.

Mr. Burleigh testified to the conversation which took place between himself and General Thomas, wherein the latter said he intended to take possession of the War Office by force.

Mr. Butler asked the witness whether he was present at any time in the Adjutant General's Office before General Thomas was appointed Secretary of War ad interim. The witness replied in the affirmative. Mr. Butler then asked if he heard any conversation between Gen Thomas and his subordinate officers on the occasion referred to.

Mr. Curtis asked at what date the managers fixed this alleged conversation?

Mr. Butler said it was about the time General Thomas was restored to the office of Adjutant General, and he proposed to show that he then told the clerks and others in his room what he intended to do for them when he became head of the Department.

Mr Evarts said the managers proposed to give evidence concerning matters antecedent to the

Dear Applicant:

It is with our sincere apology that the enclosed death record is the most legible copy that can be produced. We have made numerous attempts to secure the most readable copy from the original death record or from the microfilm image. Unfortunately, the original death certificate has lost its archival quality. The paper should have had an extended "shelf life" of over 100 years with a minimum of discoloration and fiber breakdown. Instead, the paper has become very brittle and the print has faded, affecting the legibility of this document when reproduced or at the time the record was originally microfilmed.

Once again, we apologize for this problem.

Sincerely,

Anthony Magusiak

Milford Town Plat

PEOPLE OF THE EARLY 1900'S

The people of Milford were just common people, interested in their church, school and the welfare of their community. Among their lot were no wealthy ones, nor any in want. They were law-abiding, all good neighbors and always willing to be of help to each other.

I will not describe the new residents under this section as they are mentioned under "Buildings" and are not of the era of this writing.

NOTE: The following numbers designate the location of property on the "Town Plat"

#2. - Frank & Serilda FLICKINGER: Resided here until their death. Although they were childless they always liked young and old people alike. The Flickingers raised a niece, Annie Reeder, after her mother died. Mrs. Flickinger was a professional midwife and considered by the local doctors to be one of the best. She delivered many of the local babies including, "yours truly."

Frank was a night fireman at the Newport Tannery. In the summertime he drove one of the first cars in town, a Maxwell, then later a Chevrolet. But when the roads got bad in the fall, Frank put the car on blocks and walked to Newport, wearing rubber boots and carrying a lunch box and an umbrella.

#3. - Cornelius SHEAFFER: "Neal", as he was called, lived alone and was called "The Town's Old Grouch" because he never associated with anyone and carried on a war among the young people. Around Halloween time he mostly got the "works." Although no one ever

#4. - Susan "Mammy" BROWN - The original log, one-story house was removed about 1919 and replaced with a tar paper shanty by Lawson Smee, which was later removed and replaced by the present resident, Clair Rhoades.

#5. - Mary BLAINE - This house remains much the same today, except for new porches, garage, etc. It is owned and occupied by the James Rodemaker family.

#6. - Samuel "Squire" WATTS - Except for remodeling, new garage, porches, etc., this home has not changed. It should be noted that a fence ran along the front of this and the Mary Blaine property. This fence was located near the front porches because one of the town's public draw wells was located just outside of the fence. Later the fences were removed and the well filled in. Leo Casner owns and resides here today.

#7. - Ray SMITH - The house on this lot replaced an original house burned down many years ago. The lot was vacant many years and in the late 1920's Smith erected the present home, now owned by James Aitkin.

#8. - Thomas LENIG - Store - This is the store property, possibly one of the oldest buildings in town. Mrs. Elizabeth Lyons Hench lived here and operated the store and post office, later owned by Joe Page who closed the store and post office but lives in the house.

#9. - William CLOUSER - This is not the original house on this property. The old house, an ordinary two-story, surrounded by fences and lots of shrubbery was torn down about 1920 by Robert Fosselman, who erected the present bungalow at the same location.

John Andrew Comp, 78, of Falling from a ladder on which he was picking cherries in front of his home along the road to Roxbury about three miles east of Newburg, John Andrew Comp, 78, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon.

CONSISTORY LETTER

To the Members and Contributing Members of the Reformed Church of the Incarnation:—

We the members of the Consistory hereby submit the Seventeenth Annual Financial Statement of your church and also a resume of the most important events of the past year.

During the year our Church and the Church at large sustained a great loss in the passing of our minister, the Rev. U. Oliver H. Kerschner, on May 2, 1931.

Since the death of our beloved servant, the Church has been without a regular minister, but the manner in which you have all responded to the spiritial work of the Master certainly is worthy of commendation, viz;-

You have been loyal in your attendance to the services to God and to the Church.

All communion services have certainly been well attended and demand our heartfelt thanks to you and yours.

You have given unusual support to all special services of the Church, and especially was this true at the Christmas season, when the Young People gave the Annual Pageant and Cantata, assisted by the Choir.

You have also merited commendation for the physical work done, viz;-

Extensive repairs have been made to the Parsonage, making this a very acceptable home for a minister, because it is now modern in all its compartments.

We have made repairs to the Church School and Primary Departments, which certainly is commendable, both to teachers and scholars.

During the Harvest Home season, we had contributed the largest donation of fruit and produce in the history of the congregation to the Hoffman Orphanage, at Littlestown, Pa.

For these many demonstrations and your loyal support, we surely are your appreciative servants.

May our efforts in the future be of such a nature that they will be well pleasing to God, and give the Church the place, to which she is rightly entitled, in our Community and the Church at large.

Respectfully Recognized By Your Consistory

DEAR PAUL,

I ENJOYED SEEING AND TALKING TO YOU THURSDAY AND FRIDAY WHEN I WAS IN NEWPORT. I HAD A MOST ENJOYABLE WEEK DOING GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH AND MEETING RELATIVES.

I SPENT MOST OF TODAY GOING THROUGH THE LETTERS YOU WERE KIND ENOUGH TO LEND ME. I'VE COPIED EACH OF THEM SINCE THEY ARE OF MUCH VALUE IN REFLECTING THE LIFE AND HISTORY OF OUR FAMILIES. LIKEWISE, I READ EACH OF THE NEWSPAPERS, BUT NOTHING WAS IN THEM THAT WAS OF A FAMILY NATURE.

PAUL, I'M RETURNING THE LETTERS AND THE COUPLE OF INDIVIDUAL DOCUMENTS AS PROMISED. I AM MOST APPRECIATIVE TO HAVE HAD AN OPPORTUNITY TO REVIEW THEM. IF YOU EVER DECIDE TO GET RID OF THEM AND YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO WITH THEM, I WOULD BE MOST HAPPY TO RECEIVE THEM AND ADD THEM TO MY COLLECTION OF ITEMS OF A FAMILY HISTORY NATURE.

LIKEWISE, IF, AS YOU GO THROUGH THE REST OF YOUR POSSESSIONS IN STORAGE, YOU FIND ANY LETTERS, BIBLES, OBITUARIES, NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS, ETC., THAT HAVE ANYTHING TO DO WITH FAMILY HISTORY, I WOULD BE MOST APPRECIATIVE TO HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY TO SEE AND COPY OF THEM.

AGAIN, PAUL, I ENJOYED SEEING YOU AGAIN. TELL YOUR WIFE NOT TO WORK TO HARD SHELLING WALNUTS.

VERY TRULY YOURS,

Daniel S. L. Comp

THE HOUSE OF HOWE

Compiled and written by Mrs. Clarence R. Rupp (Margaret Leiby Glanding), 632 South George Street, York, Pennsylvania - 1951

For some years off and on I have been delving into the Howe geneology and at this point in the process I wish to share my findings with my Howe cousins. Without waiting any longer for more information I am gathering up what I have on hand and compiling it: from clippings, letters, notes of conversations, my own recollections, histories, etc. I regret the data is not more complete. As time goes on I hope to add to it. Perhaps too others of our clan will be inspired to do research.

During the years I have met many Howes and have discussed our history with them. Also I have heard of many Howes through mutual friends and have been in extensive correspondence with them; but never in one instance have I been able to connect up our line with any of the others.

The basis for all our records has been the paper compiled about 1890 by Susanna Howe Humes (whom we affectionately called "Auntie Humes"). As she was born only four years after her grandfather, our William Howe I, died, and lived six years before the death of her grandmother, Susanna Shoop Howe, for whom she was named, you can realize the value of her notations. Except for a few dates, which I have added, her data, as follows, is just as she wrote it:

Births and Deaths of Wm. and Susanna Howe's children and grandchildren and great grandchildren.
Record of Howe family from 1735 college graduate, who has a position in Philadelphia.

Leland and Nettie House Rounsley had one son, Edgar, who married Mary Ella Eppley. They had a daughter and two sons. He worked in Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D. C., and died suddenly May 17, 1951.

The children of Rev. Samuel and Adda Thompson Ham were: a) Robert, who died at 10 mos.; b) Arthur, born Nov. 13, 1891, died at Galeton, Pa., 1944. Graduated at Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, Pa. Was in insurance business. 33rd degree Mason. He was first married to Margaret L. Kieth, who lived but a few months. He later married Grace Bauder, Oct. 25, 1916. They had three children: A son who died in infancy, a son Edgar, and a daughter Dorothy. The next child of Rev. and Mrs. Ham was c) Mary, who married Charles Frank, and they had the following children: Bettijane, who works at Long Beach, Calif., Charles Edward, Arthur Leon, and James, 2 of whom are in military service. Mary graduated at Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport Pa., and held responsible positions at the State Capitol, Harrisburg, before her marriage. Beautiful of face and character, Mary has always carried on the highest Howe traditions. The Franks live at Crescent City, Calif. The next child of Rev. and Mrs. Ham was d) Florence, who graduated at Millersville State Normal School, taught in the schools of Harrisburg until her marriage to Zack Law. They live at Havertown, Pa., where I have visited them. They have one son, Robert, who graduated this year at Drexel. Florence is also one of my dearest cousins. The youngest child of Rev. and Mrs. Ham was e) Edgar, who graduated at University of Maryland Dental School, was abroad in the First World War, married Gertrude Christopher, a musician, who is a graduate of the University of West Virginia. Edgar had been a successful dentist at New Cumberland, Pa., for many years, was a very likable person, and died June 14, 1951.

The children of Allen R. and Minnie McCoy Thompson were: a) Robert, who married a nurse and lived on his grandfather Thompson's farm in Watts Twp.; b) Paul C., who graduated at Penn State as an electrical engineer, is married and lives in Plainfield, N. J.

The children of Henry F. and Sophia L. Shaw Howe were a) Eva, who married Dr. Rufus Egbert, a physician of Red Rock, Pa., near Bradford; b) Lizzie Howe Conner, who did beautiful paintings and lived in her nineties. Her husband was many years her senior; c) Minnie Howe Freed, born 1868, who lived latterly in Tampa, Fla., where my aunt, Katherine Howe Beard, saw her in 1937. Her husband was 25 years her senior. They had two sons. d) Miles Howe. His photo shows him a very handsome man. He attended my mother's graduation at Kee-Mar. e) William. f) Frank. I have pictures of Frank, Miles, and Lizzie, and all are fine looking. I never met any of them but from what I have heard they were grand people.

The children of Thomas and Catherine Howe Fulton were Orville, who has been dead many years, and Elmer Thomas (born 1862, died March 1933), who married Ella Ritter of Liverpool, Pa., Oct. 5, 1892. She died Oct. 14, 1946. I recall Aunt Kate Fulton in my little girl days as a very sweet-faced woman, who was very deaf. Elmer's children were: a) Margaret, married to Fred Wright. They live in Harrisburg and have one son. b) Orville R., married to Katherine Henderson. They live in Newport, and have a daughter, Mary Katherine. Orville has been with the Prudential Life Insurance Co. for many years, has been president of the town council, and prominent in the life of the town. c) David R., married and living in Akron, O. Has one son. I know all of this group of cousins and am fond of them.

This brings me to my own branch of the Howe family. My grandfather, Dr. William Rudy Howe, died at the age of 33, just as he was giving great promise of becoming a good family doctor. While he studied at Jefferson Medical College, Phila., he wrote delightful letters to my grandmother, then Margaret Leiby of Newport, who was attending Miss Paine's School in Carlisle, Pa., a young ladies' prep school of its day.

I had a quantity of letters exchanged between them. His handwriting is beautiful, his style rather flowery and poetic but with a keen sense of humor. Those which had reference to his life and work at Jefferson I gave to that institution for their historical collection. One tells of attending a performance of "Uncle Toms Cabin", which must have been one of its earliest engagements. Inside a quaint valentine he wrote to my grandmother the following beautiful sentiment, which I have every reason to believe was original and which will give you an idea of his command of words and charm of his writing:

"Fairest and Dearest-

This letter brings to you, enveloped in its folds, a smile as bright as the hope of possessing you must give to mortal - a sigh warm from the heart that beats for you ever - a kiss fond as ever a lover impressed upon the eyelids which curtain the light of his soul. Return the smile, accept the sigh, and keep the kiss until you can safely return it to the lips of your own

Valentine"

He graduated at Jefferson Medical College, 1856, his graduation thesis being, "Intermittent Fever." I have given his diploma to the college, as well as several cards of admission to classes signed by the teachers. One of these I have framed in our home, signed by John K. Mitchell, M. D., father of Weir Mitchell, John being the doctor who treated gratis the wife of Edgar Allen Poe when the Poes lived in Phila. during the days when they were in straightened circumstances. This card, dated Oct. 1, 1854, admitted grandfather to lectures on "The Practice of Medicine." Before going into his medical work he taught school in Newport in a pebbledash building, which stood about where the Weekly-News Sun office is now on Third St. Dr. H. O. Orris said grandfather had been his teacher. In 1857 he was a member of the Newport school board.

Mame Heilman Sherck said her mother told of seeing him going to the woods to shoot flickers, and talked of his flute-playing in the summer evenings, which she said was very beautiful. He and grandmother were married at her parents' home (Samuel and Eve Smith Leiby) in Oliver Twp., near Newport Oct. 23, 1856, and when I was married I used on my wedding veil a spray of artificial flowers from her wedding wreath. In the Louise Beard Memorial museum, Newport, I have placed their wedding certificate, and a letter from Rev. David H. Focht to Dr. Wm. Howe, saying he would be glad to officiate at the wedding. Also here is his doctor's sign. Grandfather was over six feet tall and very handsome, as his daguerreotypes show. Grandmother was short and extremely lovely. She used to tell me she could walk under his outstreched arm. Their time together was destined to be very short. He was first in partnership with his cousin, Dr. Robert Brown, in Newport, and on May 21, 1858, my mother, Annie Eva Howe, was born in their home, the very same house which is now the city hall of Newport, next door to the Robert Brown home. The little Howe family then moved to Blain, where grandfather was practicing. In the spring of 1859 he had grippe and was just up and around when, May 24, he was sent for to go to see a patient in the country. He felt he was not able to go, but the people insisted and said he would not need to hitch up his horse and they would transport him. He went, returned, was sitting at the dining room table, when his knife and fork dropped from his hands (heart attack). He later became unconscious and died that evening. On his books were many unpaid bills, which grandmother was unable to collect, and it was always said that the very people on whom he made the fatal call were among those who would not pay. My great uncle, Elias Leiby, then a boy of 13, told me of riding with his parents to Blain and attending a service at Blain church. The body was then taken by night (because of warm weather) to the home of my Leiby great grandparents, arriving there at 7 A. M. (according to a newspaper account) and in the afternoon burial took place in the Old Graveyard, Newport. His body was later removed to our lot in Newport cemetery. Grandmother and little Annie went to live with the former's parents in East Newport, and six months later, Jan. 4, 1860, my aunt, Katherine Leiby Howe, was born there. Grandmother lived for her little girls and all had a good home with the Leibys. Later grandmother took her daughters to New Bloomfield in order that they might attend the Academy there, and they lived in what is now the Presbyterian parsonage. The Academy closing (temporarily), they returned to East Newport, and later when the Leiby grandparents were dead and the farm sold, grandmother, Aunt Kate Fishburn, and the two girls made a home together in Aunt Kate's house mentioned before (where the Ford Auto Co. now is located). After Aunt Kate Fishburn's death the house was sold and grandmother divided her time between the Beards and ourselves. The many hours I spent in that home were golden ones to me. Grandmother Howe was a homemaker, very sociable and lovable. I was named for her, Margaret Leiby Glanding, and I adored her. She died Jan. 8, 1917, at Beards in Newport.

In 1879 mother, Annie Eva Howe, and Aunt Katherine Leiby Howe were graduated at Hagerstown Female Seminary, which later became Kee-Mar College. Mother then taught music in the Newport area and Auntie taught primary grade in the Newport school. Mother always said she would never marry a minister as she thought they had such a hard life, but Rev. William Marquard Beetem Glanding, a young minister at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Newport, had persuasive powers and on June 5, 1883, they were married in his church by Dr. Henry Baker, father's home pastor at the First Lutheran Church, Altoona, Pa.

Father was born in Altoona, Pa., May 27, 1856, graduated at Altoona High School, Dickinson College, Gettysburg Theological Seminary, and was a member of Beta Theta Pi and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities. He was the son of John Nelson and Caroline Amanda Beetem Glanding. His grandfather, Archibald Glanding, was in the Battle of North Point, War of 1812. It was on the Beetem line that I joined D. A. R. Father's pastorates were Newport, Lock Haven, Pa. (then an interval when he helped found Midland College, Atchison, Kansas, and taught there), Ashland, Pa., York, Pa., Scranton, Pa., Syracuse, N. Y., and Bellefonte, Pa. It was at the latter place that Saturday morning, Sept. 22, 1917, he kissed mother and me goodby at the station preparatory to our going to Newport. He seemed in perfect health, performed his usual duties during the day, and as late as 10 P. M. talked on the phone to a cousin at State College. That evening he had been working on a talk on Martin Luther, which he was to give at the coming meeting of synod, and his Sunday sermon was lying on his desk to be preached the next day. When he did not come to Sunday School the members became alarmed, broke in the parsonage, and found him lying dead in bed. Either a stroke or a heart attack was the cause. One of his wishes was to die in the harness and wear out rather than rust out. He was a student, a forceful preacher, a beloved pastor, and an exemplary character. Mother and I eventually lived in Harrisburg, Pa., where she died thirteen years later, Sept. 23, 1930.

Mother was a real Howe if there ever was one, an aristocrat to the nth degree, and took pride in this fact. Beautiful of face and character she excelled in social graces and made many friends in our congregations. She made some very commendable drawings and was a musician. Strange to say, in connection with the above characteristics she was a shrewd business woman, and often remarked that had she had the opportunity she would have enjoyed entering the banking business. Both she and my aunt were women of high feeling and scorned anything low or vulgar.

I was born at grandmother's home in Newport, Jan. 7, 1890. I attended grade school in York, one year of high school at Newport, was graduated from Syracuse, N. Y., High School and Syracuse University, where I belonged to Pi Beta Phi and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities. I spent one winter at the American Adademy of Dramatic Art, N. Y. City, during the time that Franklin Sargent was head of the same. While I lived in Harrisburg I did editorial work at various times at the Capitol, and for a number of years was field secretary in Penna. for the National Kindergarten Ass'n. On Dec. 27, 1930, I was married to Clarence Ray Rupp of Harrisburg in my apartment there. He was born at Harrisburg Aug. 14, 1887, the son of John Frederick and Minnie Updegrove Rupp (He joined S. A. R. on the Updegrove line.). He has been active in Masonic circles, was first in the steel business but for the past 20 years has been with the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co.

My aunt, Katherine Leiby Howe, married Horace Beard of Newport, Jan. 2, 1889, in the Newport Lutheran Church, father performing the ceremony. Uncle Horace was the son of Augustus Warren and Amanda Louisa Bechtel Beard. His father dying young, Horace was raised in the home of his Uncle Harry Bechtel, Newport, who owned the tannery there, and after attending Pierce Business College, Phila., he learned the tanning business. When the Newport tannery was absorbed by the Elk Tanning Co. he finally became division supt. of their tanneries in Penna., W. Va., and Va. After an 8-year struggle with Brights Disease he died April 7, 1911. He was active in Masonry, a well-read man, an excellent business executive, and a fine character.

My aunt, Katherine Howe Beard, was very intellectual and enjoyed study and reading. She too was an astute business woman, was interested in geneology and local history, did some nice oil paintings and painted a great deal of beautiful china, was also gifted in sewing. She was active in the Perry Co. Historical Society, and it was largely through her influence that the Woman's Club of Newport was formed, and was its first president. The last of her immediate family, at her death on March 12, 1938, in St. Petersburg, Fla. (She had gone there for the winter.), she left her N. Second St. home, Newport, to the town for a community center in memory of her daughter, to be called, "The Louise Beard Memorial." Here various groups meet, such as D. A. R., Civic Club, Girl Scouts, Garden Club, etc. The Perry Co. Historical Society has its headquarters there and one part of the second floor houses its library and museum. As one of the executors of her will, I helped arrange a family museum in a separate room on the second floor, as Auntie Katherine had once said to me there were enough articles in her home to do so. Here are housed in glass cases photos, costumes, accessories, dishes, etc., covering a period of 150 years and reflecting the life and customs of people in Newport and vicinity.

On June 11, 1894, Louise Bechtel Beard was born to Horace and Katherine Howe Beard, and as she was my only first cousin we were closer than many sisters. She attended Newport grade schools, was graduated from the National Cathedral School, Washington, D. C., and studied at the Villa Dupont School, Paris, France. While there she did much traveling and later with her mother made two more trips abroad. Both traveled extensively in this country. She entered into the life of her home town, taking active part in the Red Cross during the first World War and helping in the public library. Louise loved beauty in every form: beautiful clothes, flowers, music, poetry, and art. On May 24, 1936, she lost a fight with disease and died at Graduate Hospital, Philadelphia. The Louise Beard Memorial will always be a reminder of her.

Elizabeth Howe married John Hetrick, 1864, and their marriage certificate is in the museum at the Beard home. They lived in the former farm home of my Leiby great grandparents, which Uncle John bought in 1883. I used to go to see him there when I was a child and especially recall the strawberry beds. Mother was fond of "Aunt Lib", as she was called. An interesting anecdote is that Aunt Lib gave mother a pair of gold hoop earrings when mother was a child, which earrings I now have. Shortly afterwards Aunt Lib became very religious and thinking the jewelry would make mother vain wanted to take them back, but mother, fond of pretty things, refused. Apparently no hard feelings resulted. Uncle John Hetrick was born Aug. 23, 1828, his ancestors being pioneers in Perry Co. Following his father's death, his mother married David M. Derickson, and a child of this marriage was Mary Derickson, who married Jacob Troutman. It was in their home Uncle John finally lived, across the street from the Beard home, and of course I often saw him there. He died in 1906. He was educated at White Hill Academy, Cumberland Co., and was a contractor and builder. In Newport he built the Reformed, Presbyterian, and Episcopal churches, and at Mifflintown, the Juniata Co. Court house. On March 11, 1856, according to an inscription in the same, my grandfather, Wm. Howe, gave his sister Elizabeth a Sacred Album, which I now have, and I also have some letters of hers in very beautiful, fine handwriting.

Abram E. Howe lived in Watts Twp., Perry Co., was a justice of the peace and in the Civil War was in Co. I, 208th Pa. Vol., and was in the engagements at Petersburg and Richmond. He and his wife, Susan Ellen Stephens, had the following children: Wm. H. Howe, who was accidently shot by a neighbor boy; Orange Judd Howe; Jacob A. Howe;

Thompson B. Howe; Lizzie Howe Steel (Mrs. Jacob); Laura Howe Wright (Mrs. J. Randolph). All of these cousins lived on farms in the Watts Twp. area. Orange Howe was born Mar. 20, 1860 and died 1932. His wife was Elizabeth Baskin and they had one daughter, Tirza (Mrs. Flory Kessler). Laura Howe was married Dec. 25, 1889, to J. R. Wright. He died July 20, 1943. Their children were Ellen (Mrs. Stanley Brookhart); Mabel (Mrs. Wm. G. Snyder of Newport, a friend of mine as well as a cousin. She is mentioned before in this paper.); Berlin Wright; Idella (Mrs. G. W. Sweger), and J. Harrison Wright.

Lucinda Howe is buried in the Presbyterian churchyard, Millerstown. Edith Rounsley says her mother used to decorate the grave. There are two versions about her death. Mame Heilman Sherck said she understood Lucinda pulled over a pot of steaming coffee at the table and died, aged 3½, in great agony. Edith Rounsley, however, understands Lucinda burned to death by her clothes catching fire from a bonfire.

Aunt Priscilla Howe Wilson I remember very well and called to see her many times at her Newport home. As a young girl she taught school. She too was a real Howe, aristocratic, beautiful of face, loved her flowers, which she had in great profusion. Her husband, James Wilson, to whom she was married Dec. 25, 1860, was in the hardware business at Newport and was a fine gentleman. Their children were Harry Barford, born in Newport, 1862, and died at Duncannon, 1925; and Eva, who still lives in Newport. The former, who was associated with his father in the hardware business, was married to Eliza Jane (Jennie) Wills of Duncannon. Many happy hours I spent in their Newport home. Both delightful people. Jennie died October, 1940. Eva was a graduate of Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, Pa., still teaches music in Newport, and is a charming woman. Harry and Jennie had two children, Robert M. and Catharine Brothers, who was born in Newport Oct. 24, 1893. On June 18, 1913, she married Neall Harrison Trout, who was born in Altoona, Oct. 16, 1890. They have four children: a) Nancy Neall, born Apr. 25, 1916, in Philadelphia, married Richard Light Huber, 1938, has two children, Richard L. Huber, Jr., and Martha Wilson Huber, and they live in Cleveland, O. The husband is associated with the Hercules Powder Co. of Wilmington, Del. b) Martha Ann Pastorius, born in Phila., July 14, 1920, the first child ever to have been born in the Daniel Pastorius Mansion at 25 High St., Germantown, Pa. She is at present employed in Phila. c) James Neall, born in Harrisburg May 5, 1922. Was graduated from Schoolship Annapolis and served as an instructor at Kings Point Maritime Academy during World War II. Married Martha Tallman of Phila., 1943. Have two children, James Neall, Jr., and Lynn Louise. d) Neall Harrison, Jr., born in Harrisburg June 23, 1925. Was graduated from Kings Point Maritime Academy and served in World War II and at present is on active duty with the navy in Korea. Catharine and Neall live near Linglestown, Pa. As children the former and I played together frequently and she is one of my favorite cousins.

Jerome and Rebecca Border (from Millersburg) Howe were schoolteachers. They had three daughters and two sons and lived in Bradford, Pa., eventually, and Jerome is buried there. In Aunt Priscilla Howe Wilson's autograph album he wrote the following before going to the Civil War: "I go to meet the enemy and if I should fall in battle and never see you again here on this earth I shall meet you some day in our heavenly home." He belonged to the 12th Penna. Volunteer Cavalry. Aunt Priscilla said he was so tenderhearted that when they killed a beef or any other animal he would run away from the doings, yet when the war broke out he was the first to enlist. I never knew any of this branch.

This brings us to the last of the generation, Harrison Howe, whom I met a number of times when he visited in Newport. He was a delightful gentleman, very refined and good looking. He died at Polk, Pa., where he was a bookkeeper at the State Institute for Feebleminded Children. His wife, Mary Elizabeth Mitchell, to whom he was married at Butler, Pa., Nov. 28, 1876, was from Butler, where she died Feb. 4, 1892, and where both she and her husband are buried. Uncle Harry, as we called him, had two children: a) Mary Mitchell Howe, born in Parker City, Pa., Feb. 19, 1878; married Walter E. Kennedy (born at Tarentum, Pa., Aug. 27, 1874; died at Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 31, 1918) July 18, 1901. I recall "Mame" only vaguely in my little girl days.

b) Harry Lewis Howe, born at Franklin, Pa., Oct. 16, 1880, and died June 7, 1947, at Oil City, Pa. Is buried in Butler. He was first married Nov. 15, 1910, to Florence Watson Hazlet (born in Venango Co., Pa., June 30, 1883, and died April 11, 1913, at Polk, Pa.). He later married Agnes Rickards Leach (on Nov. 29, 1919). She was the daughter of Maj. Gen. George Collins Rickards, and was born in Oil City March 2, 1890. In the 1920's Harry and Agnes called at our Harrisburg home, and he and I corresponded, and since his death, his wife also. He was a prince of a man, both as to appearance and character, and also friendliness. He and his first wife had one son: Harry Hazlet Howe, born at Franklin, Pa., Dec. 2, 1911, who married Oct. 12, 1935, Helen Gertrude Jenkins (born at Oil City, Pa., Oct. 12, 1935.) This couple have a son, Theodore Harrison Howe, born May 15, 1939.

Mary (Mame) Howe and Walter E. Kennedy had the following children: a) Marjorie Dorothy, born May 15, 1902; married May 25, 1921, to Samuel A. Coulter (born July 7, 1897); b) Sarah Alice Kennedy, born Oct. 22, 1906; married Mar. 10, 1937, to Frederick W. Williams (born Mar. 10, 1901). She was killed in an auto accident.
c) Richard Howe Kennedy, born June 17, 1908; died April 17, 1921. Buried at Butler.
d) Harrison Coe Kennedy, born Jan. 22, 1911; married Clara Sizer.

Marjorie Kennedy and Samuel A. Coulter have four daughters: a) Maribel Kennedy Coulter, born Mar. 30, 1922; b) Judith Ann and Margery Ellen Coulter, born June 23, 1924; and c) Sarah Alice Coulter, born Jan. 21, 1940.

Although it is likely our Wm. Howe I was an Episcopalian, coming directly from England, the earliest definite records we have of the Perry Co. Howes show them to be Methodists. Intermarriage with other faiths caused them to embrace various denominations: Lutheran, Presbyterian, Reformed, Episcopalian, etc.

You will see by perusing this paper that our family are far beyond the ordinary. We are well represented in the professions, such as the ministry, education, music, medicine, law, dentistry; also business, such as banking, insurance, etc. A large group, especially in the pioneer period, were in that important work, farming. The Howes have been people influential in the life of their community. Education has played a large part in their lives. As for patriotism, they are represented in the wars of our country. We are a religious and God-fearing people. Whether we are of the nobility or not I cannot say, but I do know this: that among my Howe relatives I notice an outstanding intelligence, an artistic nature, and a personal charm, all of which characteristics add up to making The House of Howe "to the manor born."

I wish to acknowledge with appreciation the help and advice of Miss Jessica Ferguson, geneologist with the State Capitol, Harrisburg, Pa.; Mr. Henry Young, former director of the Historical Society of York Co.; and Mr. John Lowry Ruth, the present director of said society.

CROSSING THE BAR

Sunset and evening star
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out
the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For tho' from out our bourne
of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

CROSSING THE BAR

Sunset and evening star
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out
the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For tho' from out our bourne
of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

Alfred Tennyson

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever

Dear Jane, RIN #1376

I am returning the twenty-two pictures you sent to me in May. Sorry for the delay in returning them, but things were fairly hectic for me this summer and I didn't have much time for genealogy. Also, I just got back from the photographer, duplicates of the pictures that I had taken.

I've been successful in "tracing" down most of the descendants of the Warren family. I'm awaiting some information from a granddaughter in Rockport, N. York which should "fill-in" considerable info on the Warrens.

Incidentally, I've coded each picture on the reverse side and have prepared a listing of the individuals with birth and death dates as noted. Please review the listing and if you notice any errors or can fill in any N/T spaces, please let me know.

Again, thanks for your kindness in sharing the pictures with me.

Sincerely,

Pamela L. Lee Camp
